Demonstrably Happy

As a joyful counterpoint to recent negative words about same-sex relationships from religious leaders, LGBT Christians and their friends get together to send a positive, and musical, message to Cardinal O’Brien, who recently claimed that lesbian and gay relationships were ‘demonstrably harmful’. They performed a stunning ‘flashmob’ style performance of ‘With Joy Ablining’ from Gilbert and Sullivan’s Princess Ida, inside Old St Paul’s Church, Edinburgh.

The idea was inspired by Rev David Coleman, minister of the United Reform Church and member of the Iona Community, who described his response to the Cardinal’s comments, ‘My wife and I were saddened and appalled, but tried to look positively! We created a cool wee badge (a gay friend in ministry training assumed our small ones were cooler) with the legend ‘Demonstrably Happy’, and posted it on Facebook. At some point Carrie Gioch and Catherine Murray picked it up and ran with it.’

Carrie explained, “I have been civilly partnered for the past few years and I am 100% of the view that it was best decision I have ever made... I decided to make a small gesture to underline that fact that same-sex relationships make a lot of us ‘Demonstrably Happy’, to mark the joy we feel as a counterpoint to some of the silliness being spewed last night. When we had our blessing, I was very excited to be bringing it to the St Bride’s stage...

Gaydonia is a fictional European country suffering from the financial crisis. Government Minister, Davor Matolic, is searching for a way – any way – to make money. This is not a good time for his son to return from America with his new boyfriend... With help from the whole family, the country goes all-out in search of gay tourism and the Pink Pound.

The Luvvies urge you to join them for this hilarious roller-coaster journey! Dates and times: Thu 12th-Sat 14th Apr, 7.30-10pm, with an interval. Tickets: £9 (£7 concessions) available on the door, or in advance via www.luvvies.org.

A world premiere and a musical comedy, Gaydonia is a ‘hilarious roller-coaster’ experience. The performance will also be available on YouTube.

Tom Shearer (1925-2012)

A much loved, generous and caring man.

Tom was well known in Peeblesshire. In 2004 he received the MBE for services to horticulture and the community of Peebles. Three years later he was named as Tweeddale Citizen of the Year.

Tom grew up in Lasswade, Midlothian, and was an apprentice at Dickies garden market before studying horticulture at the College of Agriculture in Edinburgh. On completion of his studies he joined the staff of the college and became the horticultural adviser for the Borders Counties for 40 years.

Tom married Annie in 1949 and they had three children: Colin, Julie and Wendi. In 1980 the family moved to Beechgrove, Broughton, Peeblesshire. Tom then developed a magnificent garden, with which the public were welcome, and in which they flocked. Over the years visitors donated around £30,000, which Tom passed on to local and national charities.

Tom was a supporter of the Scottish National Party and on one occasion he planted hundreds of blue and white bedding plants to create a huge floral display. On his retirement from work, Tom became involved in numerous gay groups. In the early 1990’s he served as Secretary of the Edinburgh Branch of the Scottish Homosexual Rights Group and was a loyal and active member of the Edinburgh Gay Switchboard and Edinburgh Belivers. Tom assisted the Borders Gay Group in its early development from 1984, hosting barbecues at Beechgrove. Tom subsequently attended many of the group’s events, and hosted regular film nights, as recently as September 2011.

Tom joined the Gay Outdoor Club in the mid 1980’s and hosted weekends at Beechgrove. In recent years he led popular walks in the nearby countryside which were called "Vista Walks", because, he said, they were even smaller than Pansies. With his knowledge of local history and of farming practices these were fascinating excursions and attracted a following of 20-30 people. After the walks members would return to Beechgrove, and be treated to produce from his garden, or his kitchen, or the local brewery. Tom led the last of these walks in July 2010.

When Gay Dads Scotland was started in 2009, Tom provided a mobile phone for the group, from the land raised by his garden. He helped provide friendship, support and understanding for newcomers to the group. Over the years many people have benefited from his knowledge and experience, and his caring nature and generosity. He will be remembered for a long time to come.

Gaylord Blake

Gaylord, does a hot pepper dating website have a tier system too?

Well, I’m not very religious but my boyfriend is, and he has a problem with it...”

Gaylord: “But you’re religious, aren’t you?”

Blake: “Yes, I’m a Catholic, but I believe in the teachings of Jesus, and his message of love and forgiveness. I try to live my life according to those teachings.”

“...instead, it’s my boyfriend who’s throwing a party with it...”

Blake: “What do you mean?”

Gaylord: “Well, my boyfriend loves to throw parties and he’s always looking for ways to make them more exciting. He heard about this website and thought it would be a great way to add some spice to his next party.”

Blake: “But isn’t the idea of a hot pepper dating website a bit... well, spicy?”

Gaylord: “I know, but he believes in mixing different cultures and traditions, and he thinks this website could be a way to bring people together in a fun and exciting way. He’s planning a party to celebrate the website’s launch, and he wants me to come and help him plan it.”

Blake: “I see. I think you might have had your priorities mixed up. Don’t you think you might have had your priorities mixed up? This website is all about making people laugh and have a good time.”

Gaylord: “I guess you’re right. Maybe we should focus on finding a more conventional way to celebrate the website’s launch.”

Blake: “That sounds like a better idea. I think we should just stick to traditional party games and music and have a good time.”

Gaylord: “Agreed. Thanks for your advice.”

Blake: “No problem. I’m just glad you’re being practical about this.”

Gaylord: “I am, too. I’m just trying to make sure we have a good time, even if it’s not as exciting as we had hoped.”
Just a few short updates from Aberdeen this month, due to time constraints. News on Cheerz and also on an upcoming show from a new production company.

Cheers for the novel, Steve… Loads on in April at Cheerz Bar & Club including new band ENKY on Fri 13th Apr in the Club performing their debut single “Entice you”. The ambient clinic has worked wonders with Miss Cherry Bakewell and she’s been let out for two nights at Cheerz Bar. Fri 13th and Sat 14th Apr and ending off your weekend of fabulous drag on Sun 15th Apr. It’s Miss Bubble Basketer with not one but two game shows to entertain you and the bar’s open until 1am with the club being open until 3am that night. Carrying on the April Dragfest is Drag with No Name LIVE & UNLEASHED on the Aberdeen crochet on 27th Apr. If you’ve not experienced this act before this is a night not to be missed. Also new at Cheese are sandwiches and coffees available during the day with a few offers on the go. Follow Cheerz on twitter for more info and to interact with them.

The rehab clinic has worked wonders with Bobbie Dazzler with not one but two open until 1am with the club being open from a new production company.

Aberdeen LGBT Forum will be organising future events with more debate and discussions covering a wider range of topics and beliefs. May saw the launch of the new LGBT+MACBAS meetings, every Wed night from 8pm at Macaboo’s Bar & Bisto (on the Riverside at the Columba Hotel, Inverness). This is part of a new series of activities organised by the FORUM For MEN.

The group is for men (aged 21 or over) whether they be gay, bisexual, trans or straight. Check out their new Facebook page or for more info, contact Morgan on morgan@thetotally.org or 07745930383. Morgan also runs an LGBT+ friendly gaying group for those fit folk out there, and he organises monthly Sun walks in the countryside around Inverness (usually with a dog or so) LGBT talks and assorted dog!s)

The Equality Network came up to Inverness in Mar to run a focus group for their Out for Sport survey into homophobia and transphobia. Look forward to seeing the results - there’s lots still to do about this in Scottish sport! As the equal marriage consultation kicked off in England, the Inverness Courier had the shock story that Lady Johnstone (the widow of former Scottish Liberal leader and Inverness MP Lord Russell-Johnston) has resigned as a member of the Liberal Democrats because of it’s stance on gay marriage. Inverness dweller, Lady Johnstone wrote to Nick Clegg with her resignation claiming that the “country is in very grave danger” and her stance was not homophobic. Let’s just say there were lots of comments on the Courier’s website!

Waveney Care Highland is seeking admin volunteers to help at their Inverness office. Duties would include printing and collating materials for training courses, maintaining stock lists, answering the telephone, etc. Contact Inverness (01463) 711875 or E-mail: highland@naveneycare.com. Don’t forget they operate a free condom by post scheme to folks in Highland, Argyll and Bute.

Supplies are posted out, free of charge, every 2 months in plain wrappers so the service is completely confidential.

Sat 12th May is the date for the next LGBT disco at the Beaconsfield Hotel in Inverness. Tickets £10 on the door. It is too early for an Alternative Queen’s Jubilee party! If you’ve got other ideas for a theme, contact www.gaynews.org.uk

Apologies for the short column this month, due to me being away and at conferences. If you have any news or views please get in touch with me in the usual way.

Inverness and Hamilt McLay are putting on a production of Beauty and the Beast. The cast is made up of 60 people, most of whom have never been on stage before. One of the girls playing the alternating role of Belle is a national Scott song talent competition and the other has performed at her Majesty’s Theatre in London. Locals have got right behind the show and are helping the costumes and building the set from scratch. Beauty and the Beast is on at The Stewart’s Hall in Huntly from 5th-9th June, running over six performances. You can get more ticket information by dropping in at 15-17 Gordon Street, Huntly or calling the box office on Huntly (01466) 708889.

This month has been very busy in Glasgow, saw Benetti’s closure just before the print deadline of the last issue and this month it’s been announced that Manchester’s AXM will be coming up to Scotland to take over in Scotland’s Oldest Gay Venue. I’ll let you into a secret, I’m glad that we’ve got another venue open - because Polo just isn’t big enough to play host to all the clubbing in Glasgow, and I like my space to dance! I finally got round to going into my favourite little underground bar, that is named aptly as ‘Underground’! After a two month campaign by myself and the readers of this article - they have finally put the sign up - and what a snazzy sign it is!! But it’s not about the outside, this bar is one of the nicest environments to have a drink in, socialise with the regulars and meet new friends. Everyone in Underground is so friendly, that I could walk in there on my own and stay till the end of the night and never feel lonely!

They also have one of Glasgow’s most up and coming Drag Queens, Bee Flavas on the mic on a Tue, and I must say ever since seeing this diva shake her thighs on Britain’s Got Talent - I knew I wanted her to be big. Karaoke is always a soft spot of mine - I do enjoy regular Karaoke hosting spots in Speakeasy every Thu, so I’m glad that my gig doesn’t clash with this one - as I’d hate her to be doing it in an empty room.

Karaoke is a great form of karaoke. The Gaylord Bar seems to be a Karaoke Haven these days, with the lovely Audrey Hepburn belting out some tunes in her ‘Queenskin’. Now, the Court Bar is always one that fascinates me - it’s great location means that during the sunny hour you can sit outside and have a pint - but I always get worried that those in the heterosexual community seem to take over during the day. Hopefully it gets better, we’ll be able to sit outside the Court Bar as gays!

I remember when a certain &€€@&@% was a pointless annex to the Polo Lounge and I wasn’t quite sure whether to agree or disagree with his statement, but now I need to worry because they’ve only gone and decided to redesign the venue and have closed it for about 10-12 weeks! It’s really good to see investment in our venues, which will hopefully add a vibrant, exciting cocktail bar to our scene! My hats off to the team at Polo who I know will turn it in to an amazing venue!

Speakeasy and The Trophy Room keep doing amazing things, and I think that it’s down to Nancy Glenc (joke - down to Craig, Jamie and the wonderful team of bar staff who have kept the place lovely, full of talent and great service! The line up is truly enjoyable, starting the weekend off with DJ Lawey and her amazing tunes has been the best thing to happen to the scene on the busy student night! Nancy Ditch - she’s still here!!! Well I’d have thought back in Sep 2010 that Nancy would still be around - I certainly didn’t think she’d be doing it for so long!)

Pride Glasgow is on Jul 14th - just two weeks after Pride Scotia in Edinburgh on Sat 30th Jun - so make sure you keep both dates in your diary!

I’m still looking to hear your thoughts on Glasgow’s scene, so make sure you get tweeting this month! WhtaToThink
