Bethan from Birmingham: I came to my first BiCon to go to relax and have fun. Since then I’ve become a rep for two national campaigns and a workshop facilitator extraordinaire. If I hadn’t been to my first BiCon I would have never met the clan who taught me how to do this – and I still go to relax and have fun!

Grant from Leicester: I’ve been to lots of BiCons. I look forward to them each year because BiCon is one of the few places where I don’t feel like an outsider and can be at home and fully myself. This one was very chilled and it was great to meet so many bisexual Scots and dance with them at the ceilidh in random gender combinations.

Hil from Manchester: This was my second BiCon and although it was different from the first, I was very much looking forward to it. I was also very much looking forward to meeting so many bisexual Scots and to dance with them at the ceilidh in random gender combinations. These were some of the most memorable moments of the weekend for me.

Jen from Stockport: This was my 12th BiCon and although I was looking forward to it, I was also looking for a little more variety.
This is your 8th year at the Edinburgh Fringe, how has the show changed over the years? It is my loy year performing at the Fringe but it's actually only my 7th solo show, so I'm celebrating this to my 8th year this year and I can't wait to see how much I've grown! I think with every show I've become more confident performing in front of a live audience and I've evolved as a performer. I've also grown as a writer and I've written more original material since my last show, which will be included this year. I've also included a few songs.

Edinburgh is not only one of the most beautiful cities in the world, it's safe, it's friendly, it's easy going. What should Bumblebee readers expect from Ally Pally? It's never been soquer before. We're too busy worrying about the future that we've forgotten to enjoy the present.

Details correct as we went to press.

Friday night's Fringe guide

Holly Penfold

When I'm passing out flyers I love to wear outrageous shocking things like birdcages on my head. Facts known for wearing some of the most outrageous costumes. Yes, I used to wear outrageous shocking things like birdcages on my head. I got noticed by people around me taking photos and then I open up to see my fringe door and say ‘what is this?’. The show is slightly different. I've redesigned something that worked well and hopefully, we'll leave me standing naked (precisely speaking) in the middle of this Milestone Temple.

Who is your favourite singer/performer? Tom Bailey, Judy Garland, Liberace, and last moment, whose song? Yes. It's the same as my life instincts. I'm still my type of person and proud of it, so I'm passionate about my performances.

Do you like Edinburgh? What do you think of the Fringe? Edinburgh is a place of dancing on graveyards. The heart beats around to the heart of this city and perhaps that's why Edinburgh has always been a festival city. The Fringe is a series of events that are held throughout the year, with a focus on the arts. It is one of the largest international arts festivals in the world, attracting thousands of artists and visitors from around the globe.

What other Fringe shows will you be seeing? Ducty, and c. Connie, Over the Rainbow, Ooh! To the Moon, Life Sucks... And Then You Die, The Lady Celestial Dust and Emily's Kitchen.

What should Bumblebee readers expect from Ally Pally? The show is expected to be a mix of music, comedy, and storytelling, with a focus on the Edinburgh Fringe Festival. If you're looking for a fun and engaging evening, this is the show to see.

What should I bring with me? A camera to capture the magic of Edinburgh, a map to navigate the streets, a good book to read, and a positive attitude to enjoy the festival.

Brother's has a Edinburgh's first gay shop. A woman wearing a pink and white striped t-shirt is outside. Her hands are in her pockets and she is looking down at the ground. Another woman is standing behind her, also looking down. A third woman is sitting on a bench, talking on her phone. In the background, a man is walking down the street, looking up at the camera.

This month, Dundee's Blues has been affection. Last month you hear people talk about it, it's always with the last name came from before my time, whenever (She-Pees… strange yet useful invention!!), thank God Dundee Fortnight is finally here and was only a matter of time before we saw a scene in Dundee is changing. Last month I daddy for a few months. In their absence the students away home to live off mummy and the Dundee weather instead!! This is the holidaying, so looks like I'll just have to enjoy the sun. Unfortunately I am not for all of us traditional folk. Two weeks off to chances?), the find myself next to a Dundonian, what are the turn.

With Charlie and Ian's move to Lanzarote, it's almost its former name, this month it's Charlie's almost 70th birthday. Although this month sees Karaoke on the first Tue of the month and Sat nights. Taste's 12th Birthday Party

"This is not a gay friendly night," announces Clayer, the door whore, to a large queue of eager clubbers. "Let me make this absolutely clear - this is a gay night which is straight friendly."

We are anticipating kick off at Taste's 12th Birthday Party. The queue outside the Liquid Room is certainly mixed, but happy to a man and woman. Indeed, "happy" is the world for Taste: Organisers ensure that attitude is refused admittance.

Inside, on the dancefloor, DJ Harri welcomes early starters with a cheerful layer of trademark tunes - punters of Sub Club in Glasgow know Harri is going places. Then shit-hot and sexy Josh The Funky 1 from Chicago, delivers the tightest, up for it set, which keeps this clubber fixed to the now bouncing dance floor. And to see us out, resident DJ's Fisher & Price entertain till the very end, until, at 3am, they bask in hearing the familiar chant of, "One More Tune."

All in all, t'was the great night that Taste's birthday party deserved. Here's to twelve more years. Taste runs every Sun at The Liquid Room, 9c Victoria Street, Edinburgh.
Glenn & Mike cordially invite you to...
