Jodie Fleming Writes: The people at LGBT Youth Scotland have been busy bees and have a plethora of interesting opportunities on offer for all. The commencement of their adult volunteering programme has meant they have the resources to put on even more events to bring the community together.

The Events and Resources team have been hard at work on the scene, selling everything from ribbons and raffle tickets, to mulled wine and kisses over World AIDS Day weekend! The Blue Moon raised an impressive £190 through donations, Planet Out gathered an amazing £350 through ribbon sales, drinks promos, djs, requests and staff kisses; and Habana topped the billing with a whopping £550 from ribbon sales, mulled wine, donations and a fantastic raffle - you really can get something back from giving!

Proving that volunteering can be fun and sexy, the Events and Resources team have already come up with some great stuff for LGBT History Month. On Saturday 31st January, they will be holding their first ever LGBT Swap Shop. Do you struggle with being given the wrong gender Xmas present? Do you dread the New Year? At a time of year which can be isolating and bleak for many, this is a time to come together and celebrate 2009 by getting out with your old and in with someone else’s new! So bring along your unwanted clothes, Xmas pressies and bring a-bric-a-brac and swap it forxmaswear. With New Year’s resolutions a-plenty, many aspire to ‘get fit’ and the team at LGBT Youth are planning fun and creative ways to do this. Watch this space for ideas about such as the first ever LGBT walk/run in Edinburgh.

If you are interested in volunteering with LGBT Youth Scotland, they are campaigning for volunteers throughout Scotland. If you live in Edinburgh, Glasgow or Tayside and would like to get involved, either as a volunteer or as a participant, please get in touch. Likewise if you live in Edinburgh and would like to attend the LGBT swap shop, or have donations you would like to contribute, please contact the team. Your community needs you!

First up, the editor has been raving in anticipation of an upcoming MSC Scotland event. The MSC were founded in 1974, and have been in continuous existence since - so 2009 will see them celebrating their 35th anniversary. 2009 is also the 25th anniversary of Burns Night, which is why they are holding this very special series of events. Their club, and others like it, are usually described as ‘Heather clubs’. But MSC members are interested in this not in any way a requirement. So if you’re a man interested or curious about the environment, explore these interests. MSC Scotland offers their very own Xmas sale, with huge reductions on all drinkson Boxing Day. At www.taste-clubs.com , book in advance to avoid disappointment – although tickets can also be bought at the door too.

The favourite MSC Scotland haunt is the New Town Bar. Of their Xmas/New Years events coming soon, but the Wiir Play hoot. Check out their website www.newtownbar.co.uk for the latest info.

The scene is simply overflowing with well-dressed, with topknots adorning all of our favourite some venues. And both GHO and CC Rooms have an extended Same drinking license for the whole of the Xmas/New Year period. Whooosh – extra drinks!

On Xmas Eve, Café Habana promise the best advent in town - with the return of the amazing Miss Scarlet Diamond, and the very best of Miss Coco Chanel. A show not to be missed – and they’ve just put a bit earlier for those not wanting to be too hungover for Xmas!

If your inner party animal takes over on Xmas Day, then there’s only one place for you to go: Taste are holding their 15th Annual Taste Escape Xmas Day Party. This party will be held at the GHO in Guthrie Street, and features their resident DJs Fisher & Price and Miss China, from 11am. You can pay on the door, or book tickets online at www.tasteclubs.com . Book in advance to avoid disappointment – although tickets can be bought at the door too.

GHO also open on Xmas day, hosted by DJ JT. All that dancing and cavorting is the perfect opportunity to get your drink on these Xmas dinner calories! And GHQ are offering their very own Xmas sale, with huge reductions on all drinkson Boxing Day. At www.taste-clubs.com , book in advance to avoid disappointment – although tickets can also be bought at the door too.

You'll never Stevie this but it's a good place to start. My partner and I always have our most loving and satisfying dates at Daniel's. The staff are always so welcoming and they seem to actually care about the people who go there. I'm not sure if it's true, but I heard people who go there are really happy with the service and the quality of the food. I've ever been there myself, but I've heard good things about it from others. I would definitely recommend it to any friends or acquaintances who might be interested in trying it out.

I also heard that they have some amazing drinks and a great selection of wines.

Overall, I think Daniel's is a great place to go for a dinner date or just to spend some quality time with someone special. It seems to have a really nice ambient and a welcoming atmosphere.

I hope this helps and thanks for asking!

Glasgow

This month has been quite interesting in terms of gay scene developments. There was a lot of talk about the new venue 'Daniel's' opening in the city centre, which seems to be doing quite well according to feedback from people I know. There have also been some changes at other venues, with certain bar closures and relocations announced.

In terms of events, the Glasgow Pride parade took place recently, which always attracts a huge crowd and is a great event to experience.

Another notable event was the 'Gay in the City' festival, which took place in various locations throughout the city. It's a great opportunity for people to come together and celebrate the gay community.

Overall, it's been a vibrant and active month for the gay scene in Glasgow, with plenty of new ventures and events to look forward to in the future.

I hope this helps and thanks for asking.

Highlands

The Highlands have been experiencing some interesting developments in the gay scene recently. There have been some new venues opening up, including 'The Citizens' club, which seems to be doing well according to reports.

Another notable event was
the 'Gay in the City' festival,
which took place in various
locations throughout the Highlands. It's a great opportunity for people to come together and celebrate the gay community.

Overall, it's been a

The Luvvies LGBT Theatre Company

David Boizet, The Luvvies’ Chair reports:

What a 2008 this has been for The Luvvies - ambitious, successful and challenging! These are words that have come to be synonymous with The Luvvies over the past year that celebrated both gender and Shakespeare.

Painted Eggs

Congratulations to Nicola Dodder, Ken MacInnes and Liz Coope for their production of Painted Eggs, written by David Boizet, directing and producing a new, home grown piece of theatre. A new writer in our midst! The Luvvies were proud to show a new piece of work looking into the life of a transvestite, with the drama and humour that is inherent in these journeys. This large scale project, being a gay and lesbian in the theatre going community, gave chance to many from the North East of Scotland which were met, with the dedication and commitment we have come to expect from The Luvvies. It also provided the opportunity to bring in new actors, who have gone on to put in later projects for example...

Roma & Juliet

The all-blackfinn version of Roma & Juliet was a short innovative film. With the fine direction of Katy Dimmock’s, Producer role from stage to screen. We new edition of Rachel O’Brien’s vision and directorial debut, and the exhaustive energies of Nicola Dodder in supporting production and editing. This project took a year to develop and produce, and has shown that The Luvvies are capable of not only putting on stage, but also, long-term projects which require stamina and committed planning. On a LCC Carry-on picture schedule a year later, but again "a Littlegay Carry-on picture is being planned. Watch this space.

Squeaking Cleopatras

This featured extract from Shakespeare’s work by an all male cast was going strong from our previous successes, which were met, with the dedication and commitment loving by the young audience, and the chance to put in the stage, and to Ant’s Saturdaze and Ant’s Magic Show with costumes! And to Muz Mitchell, for his hilarious help with production - going above and beyond the call of duty! Congratulations to Ruth Corrigan for her amazing production - ambition true and proud! We must thank her this纳米! This marks Ruth’s first of many production credits - she’s assisted with the Boyd Littlegay Jones’ directorial expertise brought with it an energy and determination that carried over to the stage. It is possible for seven actors to have so much fun on stage? Audience response of ‘play Shakespeare’ have given The Luvvies a stepping stone to new year, raising both our profile and our reputation.

Thanks to: Waverley Care, the LGBT Centre on Broughton Street and the Centre for Health and Wellbeing on House Street Thank you all to Awards for Art. We financially supported by the Big Lottery and Awards for All.
